telling me that you have the confidence that I, too, can be a great plano teacher. I've never been able to properly teach anyone in all the times I've tried before and I highly doubt my ability to educate, so your words gave me some assurance to consider trying it out. I hope you won't mind if I ask you questions if I decide to start out teaching someday. >_<

I hope you don't find it weird for me to write this long, long bett letter to you. This my first time writing a letter to a teacher, but I just felt like I would regret it if I didn't convey everything I wanted to say.
Lastly, I wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! I am going to miss you a lot now that I won't be having lessons anymore, and I really hope that I will get the chance to meet you again someday. Maybe in future, if I am able to afford to pay for my own lessons, I can come back to you as a diploma student here. >_< And until that day comes, I hope that you will always stay healthy
